Lars-Erik Ewertz leaves Duni

Lars-Erik Ewertz, Director of Supply Chain and member of the Duni executive management group, has decided to leave his position in order to start up activities outside Duni by year end. As a consequence, Duni will implement a new organization in which the functions currently reporting into Supply Chain will be integrated in other parts of the organization. The purpose is to obtain synergies by these changes and to increase operational efficiency. The new organization will take effect from September 1, 2008.
